Anna is the current All-Ireland Poetry Slam Winner. She is a poet and singer/songwriter from Dublin and a member of the Poetry Kiln collective. Anna has an interest in the interplay between emotions and patterns of behaviour, family and collective trauma and the impact of oppressive systems on how we relate to each other and the world today. She is a mother, a teacher and a drama therapist with a passion for inclusion, educational reform and social justice. Her poems are raw, honest and relatable portrayals of her experience of the human condition in all its grime and glory.
